

NOT ENOUGH HEAVY TRAFFIC TO STIFFEN ROAD BED ON CUT-OFF

Talking to a reporter for the Wichita Eagle the other day, General Manager J. E. Hurley, of the eastern section of the Santa Fe, said:

"The route of the passenger trains will not be changed before fall. The route of these trains will remain the same as at present for several months. None are to be changed when the summer time card goes in effect. It is impossible to run the California trains over the Belen cut-off at the present time. We have not completed the work of ballasting the track and the traffic has not been sufficient to settle it to make it safe for running passenger trains over it at a high rate of speed, especially the heavy through trains which are long and must be run over the country at a rapid rate.

"The work of getting this line of track in condition to handle the heavy trains with safety will require three months' time or more, and we cannot make the change until that time."

RAILROAD GRIST—

Brakeman B. Stuart is ill and out of sorts generally.

Three box cars have just been converted into cabooses for extra crews of trainmen.

Brakeman J. H. Callahan has been assigned to Conductor R. F. Hays' passenger crew as flagman.

John O'Rourke has quit the job as flagman at the Main avenue crossing, having been superseded by J. P. Perrine.

Conductor F. A. Boone is getting good and ready for another lay-off, he rather liking it after having had a taste of it.

Special Officer A. E. Blomson, who is stationed here by the Santa Fe, went down the road yesterday with his lips sealed.

General Manager C. W. Kouns and Superintendent R. J. Parker came down as far as Trinidad on No. 1 yesterday and were there switched off to some other point.

T. E. Brentnall, a scale inspector for the Santa Fe, arrived here last evening from Raton and left this afternoon for Albuquerque, after having taken a little look around.

Nearly 10,000 delegates and their friends are in Boston for the 32nd biennial convention of the Order of Railway Conductors of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Conductor J. B. Crane went east from this point last evening with an orange train of thirty cars strung along in front of him, but of which he got a good view from the cupola.

The deep ditch alongside the Castaneda hotel and down Railroad ave., on the Santa Fe company's right-of-way, is being enclosed with a fence for the protection of pedestrians and the public generally.

H. C. Short, a former traveling auditor for the Santa Fe, and a frequent visitor to Las Vegas in the days that were, arrived here last evening from Trinidad. He is now connected with the passenger service.

Conductor James Purcell and family will soon leave for the farm near Ottawa, Kan. Mrs. Purcell and the children will remain there perhaps three months, but Mr. Purcell and Charley and Jimmy will return to Las Vegas in three or four weeks and resume their present railroad jobs.

H. K. Davis, a brakeman on a west-bound Santa Fe freight train, was shot through the hip by a Mexican who boarded the train at Granada, Colo., to beat his way west. The shooting occurred about sixteen miles east of Lamar. His wound is not dangerous. The Mexican escaped.

The jury in the case of Joe Welker vs the El Paso & Southwestern railroad for $30,000 damages, gave judgment at El Paso, Texas, in favor of the plaintiff for $9,000, which is $1,000 more than the last jury gave him three months ago and on which a new trial was granted the defendant. Welker, who was employed as a switchman by the defendant company, lost his right arm in the El Paso yards on July 21, 1903, while switching cars, and was confined in the Hotel Dieu for a month.

Vice President J. van Houten of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific railway returned to Raton from Chicago where he had been spending a couple of days on business. Mr. van Houten was accompanied by a party of eastern capitalists and a special train was run out on the Rocky Mountain with these men as guests of the Rocky Mountain.

"Camping in the Rockies," a guide to the most desirable hunting, fishing and outing places in Colorado, Utah and New Mexico, fittingly termed "the playground of America" by that mighty hunter, ex-President Roosevelt, is the title of a most attractive little booklet now being distributed by the passenger department of the Denver & Rio Grande.

Deputy United States Marshals James Smith and Benson Newell have gone to Chicago with W. H. Clarke, a former Rock Island brakeman of Alamosa, N. M. Clarke was indicted at Chicago for conspiracy to bring Chinamen into the United States. He is alleged to have been a go-between for the smugglers and the dining car crew, who assisted in getting the Chinamen into the states.

CROP OF CANTALOUPE WILL REACH 200 CARS

S. M. Fulton, chief traveling agent of the Santa Fe Refrigerator Despatch company, was in Phoenix, Ariz., for the purpose of estimating the number of cars that will be needed for this year's crop of cantaloupes. With W. S. Goldsworthy, general agent, he went to Glendale to look over the cantaloupe country. From a rough estimate he said he thought about 200 cars would be shipped this year as against 61 last year. This estimate is based on the number of acres now planted in cantaloupes.

There were 130 acres planted in cantaloupes last year, so that a little over two acres were required for a carload. There are about 450 acres in cantaloupes this year and on this acreage the estimate of 200 cars is based.

"However," said Mr. Fulton, "I will know more about the number of cars to be shipped after I have looked over the ground than I do now."

W. S. Goldsworthy took his shot gun along and expected to get enough white wings for a bird dinner in the evening.

FARMING BY OWN SYSTEM, BUT HELPED BY CAMPBELL

W. H. Comstock, dry farming expert of Las Vegas, was in town last week, says the Maxwell Maxim, a new paper up the road, and spent some time with Charles Avery, looking over the dry land east of town. Mr. Comstock said that there is no reason why all the country east of us should not be made to produce abundant crops, if it is properly farmed.

There are plenty of people who do not believe that dry farming will pay in this neighborhood yet. Mr. Comstock says, it will, and to prove it, quotes from his own experience. He has 1,100 acres of dry land under cultivation near Las Vegas, and every year has a large yield of vegetables and grain. He farms after a system of his own, which in many ways resembles the Campbell system, yet is better, because it allows a crop to be harvested every year instead of every other year.

Most of the Comstock farm is planted in grain. Before anything is planted, the ground is thoroughly cultivated and packed with a roller. Then the grain is planted. The Campbell system favors harrowing the ground after the grain is up, but Mr. Comstock does not believe this and once his grain appears above the ground he lets it alone. He has dry farmed since 1900 and has never had a complete crop failure.

Here are some of the yields for the past five years:
Wheat, 15 to 40 bushels per acre.
Oats, 30 to 85 bushels per acre.
Speltz, 60 to 80 bushels per acre.
He has also raised good crops of potatoes and corn, but did not have the figures with him.

Mr. Comstock began with 80 acres and has increased his fields until he now has more than 1,000 acres producing crops.

OLD TROUBLE RESULTS IN FIGHT AND FATAL SHOT

J. O. Fulgum, foreman of Captain M. Cooney's cattle ranch about nine miles from Rosedale, Socorro county, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by a cowboy named Bennett, who is employed at the ranch. The shooting was the outcome of long standing trouble between the two.

The differences resulted in a fist fight early in the morning and Fulgum, who is the larger of the two, whipped Bennett. Fulgum, a short time later, mounted his horse and started for the range, and as he rode away Bennett shot him with a 30-30 rifle, the bullet striking Fulgum in the thigh. The wounded man was brought to Rosedale for medical treatment and it is said the wound may prove fatal.

As soon as the news of the shooting was received, officers started for the ranch after Bennett. It is said he will remain at the ranch until the officers reach there and no trouble in arresting him is anticipated.

Contract Closed.

The county commissioners of Santa Fe county closed the contract for rebuilding the court house, recently burned, with Lyon & Axtel of Pueblo, Colo., for $28,171, they being the lowest bidders.

The new court house will be a fine structure, built in Italian renaissance style and will be practically fireproof. I. H. Rapp of Trinidad, Colo., is the architect.

Great Salt Deposits.

Salt manufacturing experts from Kansas and elsewhere have been in the Estancia valley of New Mexico recently to inspect the possibilities of the great salt lakes which lie some ten miles east of Estancia.

It is understood that the visitors were favorably impressed and that the prospects are good for the development of these great deposits of the purest salt, which the natives have been using for the past 100 years.

Fifty years ago teams came from Colorado after loads of this salt. The lakes cover about four square miles and the water, which rises and falls regularly, always leaves a heavy deposit of salt, so that the supply is practically inexhaustible.

The young ladies of Clayton have taken up basket ball again. It is a nice recreation as well as interesting.

HUMAN MONSTROSITY EXHIBITED IN PHOENIX

Antonio Herrera yesterday had on exhibition here in the Tomlinson building, says the Phoenix, Arizona, Republican, a rare monstrosity in the shape of a human being with two heads four hands and four feet. The infant or infants, for there are really two of them, joined together, were born at Silver Bell the 10th of April, 1908. The incident at the time created quite a little excitement and the story was given prominence throughout the territory through the press. Both infants were girls and lived but an hour and a half, the mother also dying five hours after their birth. Physicians differ in regard to the number of organs the monstrosity contained, some contending that it had but one heart and one stomach, while others claimed each body had its individual organs.

The two infants much resembled the famous Siamese twins and immediately upon their death were embalmed and placed in a sealed glass case. They have since been exhibited throughout the territory by Mr. Herrera. He will remain in Tempe today and will leave tonight for his home in Silver Bell.
